"TRUTH is MIGHTY, and WILL PREVAIL."

Sworn Statement

—OF A—

BOSTON POLICE OFFICER

H. R. STEVENS:

Dear Sir—From exposure I took sick about nine years ago with Rheumatic Fever, from which I suffered about four months. When I recovered from the fever I found myself suffering with pain in my side and constipation, which brought on the piles. I consulted a physician, and paid him over $200 for attending me, and all the while I was gradually growing worse. Then one physician after another was employed, until seven of the best physicians of Boston had taken my case in hand.

On consultation between several of the leading physicians, they concluded my complaint was asthma and general debility. I had great difficulty in breathing, and an inhaler was required to afford me breath. Through the treatment of one physician I took from 75 to 100 boxes of calomel pills, and faithfully tried all the medicine that each physician described. From my long sickness, and the vast amount of medicine used to overcome the great pain, my kidneys became badly affected, and I suffered excruciating pain in the small of my back, with great difficulty in passing my urine.

One physician said I was deceased all through my system, and he regretted that he could give me no hope for health. My suffering from indigestion was so great that it was impossible to keep any solid food on my stomach, and the whole nature of my food was broth from oatmeal.

I also took a prescription from a celebrated English physician, who said my trouble was Bronchitis and Dyspepsia. I took 18 bottles of medicine especially prepared for Dyspepsia, and I have used a great deal of medicine from apothecaries' prescription. I have taken Sarsaparilla until you could count the bottles by the dozen, and indeed I have given nearly all the popular advertised medicine a fair trial. I had a dreadful cough, and did not average over 2 hours' sleep a night for 8 years.

A brother policeman urged me to try Vegetine, but for a long time I refused, having got completely discouraged from taking so much medicine without any benefit; however, after urgent persuasion I concluded to try it, and before I had used one bottle I could eat and hold on my stomach a beefsteak, a thing I had not been able to do before for years; indeed, I obtained more substantial benefit from the first bottle of Vegetine than from all other medicines which I had taken. I kept on improving, and kept on using the Vegetine, until I was perfectly cured and able to do duty all day, eat and digest my food, slept well at night, and I am 40 pounds heavier than I ever was before in my life, and am, as I think, a living contradiction of the prophecies of the most learned medical talent of New England, for with all of their combined wisdom they could not accomplish so much as that simple vegetable medicine called Vegetine, to which I am indebted for health, life, and happiness.

EUGENE E. SULLIVAN,
357 Athens street, Police Station 4.

SUFFOLK SS., BOSTON, MASS., Nov. 22d, 1875.

Then personally appeared the above named Eugene E. Sullivan, and made oath that the foregoing statement is true, before me, HOSEA B. BOWEN, Justice of the Peace.

FURTHER PROOF.

FACTS WILL TELL

H. R. STEVENS, Esq.:

Dear Sir—Allow me to say a word in favor of VEGETINE. During the past year I have suffered from a complication of diseases. I laid in bed from the 3d of November until the middle of the following June, and on an average did not sit up two hours a week; I had eight of the best physicians in the state, but got no help, and constantly grew worse. They agreed that I had heart disease, phthisis, pyaemia and kidney complaint, and could never be any better. I was reduced in weight 50 pounds, which is much for I am naturally thin.

In June, finding I was failing under the treatment of the physicians, I commenced the use of VEGETINE, through the earnest persuasion of friends, and I am happy to state, with good results. I have gained ten pounds in weight, and can sit up all day, walk half a mile and ride six.

I am greatly encouraged, and shall continue using the VEGETINE if I can get it. I am a poor man, but for the truth of this statement I refer to any man in Goffstown or vicinity. Yours, very thankfully,

A. J. DURBECK,

GENERAL NEWS.

FROM WASHINGTON.

The Testimony of Orville Grant.

WASHINGTON, March 9.

Orville Grant testified under oath today before the House committee on war expenditures, that he has no interest or indirect interest in any post tradership. He had exercised no authority over appointments of post traders, either direct or indirect; that he was not interested in the profits of any post tradership or sutlership. He had secured the appointment of one post trader for a friend, but received nothing for it. He was, however, interested in Indian traderships at Fort Peck and Standing Rock. In the latter he had a partner, and they borrowed thirteen thousand dollars, paying 7 per cent. interest. He has since put in three thousand dollars. He also owned a half interest in the Indian tradership at Fort Peck. Had no authority to control posts on the Upper Missouri, and was not interested in any tradership but the two mentioned, though he had received about one thousand dollars from Mr. Raymond, Indian trader at Fort Berthold. Both Raymond and himself secured a tradership, and the former said it would not pay two, so an arrangement was made whereby he (Grant) withdrew.

The Committee Ask Marsh to Come Back.

The committee have already communicated with Marsh by telegraph, and asked him to come back, now he is protected by the House bill, but no definite answer is yet received. A member of the committee gives the opinion, however, that he will return before long. The opinion is general that the Senate will concur in the bill, and the President will promptly sign it. It is said that Evans has been also subpoenaed by the committee, and will certainly make a clean breast of the whole transaction with Belknap.

The Contested Election Cases.

The elections committee of the House with three dissenting votes decided this morning to report in favor of seating the contestant in the case of Finley, Democratic vs. Wallz, colored, Republican member from the 2d district of Florida. The case of Spencer vs. Morey from Louisiana, was taken up and referred to the sub-committee, consisting of House, Beebe and Wells.

More Charges of Corruption.

It is reported that evidence was presented today to the committee on the District of Columbia, or to certain members of it, of the payment of $5000 to General Garfield by Mr. Nicholson, a contractor for paving, for services in obtaining a contract from the board of public works, at the time Governor Shepherd was president of the board and Mr. Garfield a member of the committee on appropriations. Inquiry shows that at least no such evidence was presented to the full committee, and that it is probably identical with an old charge of improper practices growing out of General Garfield's connection as counsel with a controversy between Nicholson and another owner of a prominent patent, in which Garfield did secure a fee of $5000.

The Investigation of the Postoffice Department.

It may be safely asserted that the investigation of the Postoffice department has thus far disappointed the expectations of the chief investigators. The truth is that Governor Jewell, finding that bids for carrying the mails had been put in by parties known to be guilty of frauds—Kittle and Hines for example—and that, as some of these parties are the lowest bidders, he must, under the existing law, award the contracts to them, went to the committee and, laying the facts before them, asked for legislation to enable him to reject such bids. This is all there is of it. The system devised by the second-assistant postmaster-general, which tries to prevent the obstructions of bids, has been entirely successful. The department now finds one more way to thwart straw-bidders, and asks for legislation to that end. The Post-Office committee has placed the matter before the Attorney-General.

The facts of another of these cases present certain parties in a very queer position. An attempt is made to place Hester's iniquities on the shoulders of the Postmaster-General, and Hester himself is put forward to do the work. The truth about this is, that about the time Governor Jewell came into office there was much excitement at the assassination of Ives, the mail agent in Alabama, and Senator Spencer and Representative Hayes of that state warmly urged upon him the necessity for sending somebody there to ferret out the murderers. The Postmaster-General agreed that something ought to be done, and the Alabama Congressmen recommended Hester as a suitable man to send. Governor Jewell asked at the department of justice as to Hester's qualifications, and receiving a highly favorable answer commissioned and sent him to Alabama. Hester's extensive arrests and singular failure to convict anybody excited suspicion in the department, and it was soon discovered that he was using his power solely to further the political interests of Spencer, Hayes and their friends. He was instantly recalled and dismissed from the service, despite the earnest pleading and opposition of Spencer and Hayes, and now we have the spectacle of a Democratic committee being used by the very men who are responsible for the Hester scandal for the purpose of placing the onus on the man who put an end to it. One more slander on the Postmaster-General completes the list for the present: It has been said that through the influence of his son-in-law, Mr. Dodge of New York, he awarded the contract for for postoffice and registered-package envelopes for the service of the Post Office department for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1876, to George F. Nesbitt & Co., who were not the lowest bidders. The records of the department show that the Postmaster-General had nothing whatever to do with the matter, the bids in question being opened and the contract awarded by First Assistant Postmaster-General Marshall and Third Assistant Postmaster General Barker. Nesbitt & Co.'s bid was about $7000 less than the next lowest bid.

MISCELLANEOUS.

PROGRESS OF THE JETTY WORK AT THE MOUTH OF THE MISSISSIPPI.

ST. LOUIS, March 9.

Capt. Eads reports to the South Pass Jetty Company here that a remarkable deepening of the channel on the bar side has occurred since the 4th inst. The old crest of the bar is entirely gone, and the present crest is at station No. 93 or 9300 feet from the shore ends of the jetties, the depth of water varies from seventeen to twenty feet. The outer slope of the bar deepened rapidly during the recent storm. The contractors are now pushing forward the work at the head of the pass, and preparing to close Grand Bayou.

WHISKEY RING.

The Petition of McKee for a Second Trial.

ST. LOUIS, March 9.

District Attorney Dyer today filed in the United States circuit court counter affidavits to those filed by the defence some days ago, on the motion for a new trial in the McKee case. The principal affidavits is that of Hugh F. Summers's of Pike county, in which he says the statement made by Watson Foster, in relation to his (Summers) conversations regarding the McKee trial and the guilt of McKee, are wholly false and unfounded.

The Indicted Chicago Whiskey Ring Seeking a Compromise.

CHICAGO, March 9.

Hesing, Rehm and several of the distillers indicted by the last grand jury are attempting to make arrangements with the government to plead guilty on some counts in the indictments. They have held numerous conferences with District Attorney Bangs, and a rumor is prevalent that they have made propositions to give evidence valuable to the government.

SNOW BLOCKADE ON THE CENTRAL PACIFIC ROAD.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 9.

The Central Pacific blocked by snow between Emigrant Gap, and Blue Cannon twenty-seven hours, is now clear. The snow has drifted in some places near Summit, one hundred feet deep. The storm is apparently clearing up.

FRESH DIFFICULTIES IN THE WAY OF TURKISH PEACE.

LONDON, March 9.

The Pall Mall Gazette's telegram from Berlin says a fresh difficulty in the way of peace was arisen in Turkey. Christian subjects of the sultan hitherto exempt from military duty now refuse to pay exemption tax, and offer instead to give their military services. The Christians justify their action on the promise contained in the sultan's irade of full and perfect equality with Mahomedans. The sublime porte refuses to accept on the ground that the Christians are not to be trusted in the army.

AFTERNOON TEA.—A writer in the N. Y. Evening Mail says:

I discovered the other afternoon the real significance of afternoon tea. I was asked informally by a very pretty woman to come and take a cup of tea with her at five o'clock. I went with a mental anathema on the mobs that attend that fashionable ceremony, called "tea at four," on visiting cards; went, prepared to battle fiercely in a crowd of women and men, all talking at the same time, and neither waiting for nor expecting an answer from the others. I dropped into the cosiest little drawing room library, filled to the brim with pretty things, bric-a-brac, bon-bonnieres, porcelain, metal and flowers, where I found my hostess looking like a Greuze picture, seated before a bright wood fire, piled on the backs of two brass lions in the shape of and-irons. At her knee was a low red velvet table, trimmed with white lace, on which sparkled all the paraphernalia for a cup of tea; a couple of handsome women lolled on the other chairs before the blaze, and several men were the other occupants of the room. There we all sat for about an hour, laughing, talking, philosophizing and gossiping, passing from mouth to mouth the latest on dit, each commenting in his or her own peculiar fashion on it; then we dropped into books, discussing nothing deep or abstruse, for our fair friends were too pretty, well dressed and coquettish to be that horror of the male sex, blue; but every one was responsive and appreciative of every one else, and no lights were rung for. All was fire light, sparkle and gloom. We did not separate until it was time to dress for dinner; even then it was with regret; good-by, I said, this afternoon has been a revelation—I know now the meaning of the word "afternoon tea;" up to this time I have only known the abuse of it.

GENERAL ASSEMBLY.

THURSDAY, 9.

SENATE.

Gov. Lippitt presented petitions of the First Rhode Island Light Artillery Veteran Association and of the Ninth Rhode Island Infantry Veteran Association, for reprinting the adjutant general's report of the state of 1865, and for distribution of copies of the same to soldiers of the war of the rebellion. Referred to the committee on finance.

Mr. Turner, of Bristol, called from the table the resolution to expedite the business of the General Assembly. The resolution provides that no business be considered which is received after the 20th of this month and moved an amendment inserting the word "private" before business.

The resolution was passed by a vote of 15 to 11.

Mr. Powel, of Newport, gave notice that he should introduce a resolution for an early adjournment.

The act in amendment to the constitution, from the house, allowing acts of incorporation to be considered before an adjournment of the Assembly at which they were introduced, was taken from the table, and after remarks in favor by Messrs. Turner, Colwell and Powell was passed.

All present voted in the affirmative.

HOUSE.

Mr. Sheffield called up the bill, reported yesterday from the judiciary committee, to prevent obstructions in the harbor of Newport that will interfere with the torpedo practice of the United States, which was read and passed. The act goes into effect the first of January, 1877.

Mr. Van Slyck, from the committee on the judiciary, reported back the resolution proposing an amendment to the constitution of the state, with an amendment providing that no person shall be allowed to vote in the election of the town council of any town unless paying a tax assessed upon his property valued at least at $134.

The resolution, with the proposed amendment, is as follows:

Resolved, That the following amendment to the constitution of the state is hereby proposed:

Every native male citizen of the United States, of the age of twenty one years, who has had his residence and home in the state two years, and in the town or city in which he may offer to vote, six months next preceding the time of voting, whose name shall have been registered in the town or city where he resides, on or before the last day of December, in the year next preceding the time of his voting, shall have a right to vote in the election of all civil officers, and on all questions in all legally organized town, district or ward meetings; provided, that no person shall, at any time, be allowed to vote in the election of the city council of any city, or Town Council of any town, or upon any proposition to impose a tax, or for the expenditure of money in an town or city, unless he shall within the year preceding have paid a tax assessed upon his property, valued at least at one hundred and thirty-four dollars. This amendment shall take in the constitution of the State, the place of sections 2 and 3 of article 2, which sections are hereby annulled and rescinded.

Mr. Van Slyck opposed this town council amendment, saying that it would jeopardize the adoption of the amendment by the people. It was merely asking the registry voter to consent that he shall be deprived of all right by vote or otherwise, of the interference in town matters.

The question was taken on the resolution, when it was carried by a vote of 48 yeas to 2 nays.

THE CENTENNIAL LEGION, which is to parade at Philadelphia, on next Independence day, as escort of the President of the United States, is composed of one military company from each of the original thirteen states, which will be represented as follows:

New Hampshire—Amoskeag Veterans.
Massachusetts—Boston Light Infantry.
Rhode Island—First Light Infantry.
Connecticut—New Haven Grays.
New York—Old Guard.
New Jersey—Phil. Kearney Guard.
Pennsylvania—State Fencibles.
Delaware—American Rifles.
Maryland—Fifth Maryland Infantry.
Virginia—Norfolk Light Artillery Blues.
North Carolina—Fayetteville Rifles.
South Carolina—Washington Light Infantry.
Georgia—Clinch Rifles.

Each command will wear its own uniform, and carry the flag of the state it represents. A medal commemorative of the occasion will be presented to each member of the legion.

THE DAY.

A large circle of friends will be pained to learn of the death of the wife of Senator Burnside, which occurred at her husband's residence in Providence yesterday.

On the 25th there will be an annular eclipse of the sun, which will be visible in New England as a partial eclipse. It will commence at fifty-six minutes past three in the afternoon, and end at forty seven minutes after five.

"Perley," telegraphs from Washington that opposition is made to the confirmation of Mr. Dana by Ex-Governor William Beach Lawrence, of this city, who denounces Mr. Dana's course in connection with his rival edition of Wheaton's Elements of International Law.

Professor Silliman testified in the Emma mine investigation yesterday that he had no connection with the mine except in a professional capacity, receiving $25,000 for his services. He asserted that profits to the extent of over a million dollars had been made out of the mine.

In the United States Senate yesterday Senator Gordon of Georgia spoke at length on the present system of collecting the whiskey tax, taking considerable latitude in his remarks. His statements and accusations were responded to by Messrs. Morton, Sherman and Edmunds. In the House several speeches were made in support of the Hawaiian treaty. Various bills were introduced and referred.

The investigation of the Post Office Department has only confirmed the public's good opinion of Mr. Jewell. He has exerted himself to procure the passage of laws calculated to prevent straw bidding. He sent the notorious Hester to Alabama at the request of Senator Spencer and Congressman Hays and on the recommendation of Attorney General Williams, and in consequence of the murder of Mail Agent Ives. At this time Spencer, Hays and Williams were not so well known as they are now. As soon as it was found out that Hester, instead of attending to his business, was working for Spencer's and Hays's political interests he was recalled. It is not true that Nesbit, who received a contract, was not the lowest bidder. He was the lowest bidder by $7,000. As Jewell didn't award the contract at all he couldn't have been influenced by his son-in-law, Mr. Dodge, of New York.

Orville Grant testified yesterday before the Clymer committee that he had no interest in any post tradership. He had, however, some in one or two Indian trading posts. He had a third interest in the one at Standing Rock, though he only put in $2000 of the $13000 capital, but he was security for some debts of the partnership. He had a half interest in the post at Fort Peck, though he didn't put in any money at all. He got the place, and the other man furnished the capital, and they divided the profits equally. He was promised the post at Fort Berthold by Indian Commissioner Smith, but he let Raymond, who had the post, keep it, and drew on him for $1000. He had some influence over his brother (the President) in managing these matters, and was grateful to him for his assistance, but he had neither paid nor received money from any post.

HOW TO FORESTALL THE INGRATITUDE OF PATIENTS.

The following advice given to the medical practitioners of the tenth century, and most applicable in our day, is taken from the famous "Code of Health of the School of Salernum," translated into English verse by Dr. John Ordronaux of New York, and published by Lippincott & Co., of Philadelphia:

Knowledge not gratis comes. Nor without fees,
On sick men, would attend Hippocrates.
When any doctor first attends a call,
The patient would bestow the world and all;
But once relieved and safely out of bed,
The doctor's aid from memory has fled,
And most of all if he should dare to ask
Reward or pledge due for his thankless task.
For an old pledge is a good bond 'twixt friends,
Until collected, when all friendship ends.
Let doctors, then, while sick men groan and whine,
Demand that they some legal pledge assign;
For when their pangs and suff'rings all are flown,
O'er pledges given they will curse and groan.
Then always ask the patient for thy fee,
Ere yet from danger he is saved and free;
Since, when released from fell disease's claw,
None pay the doctor till compelled by law.
Hence, 'tis that every costly drug is thought
Much better of, for being richly bought;
While from all skill which gratis we bestow,
No usefulness is ever deemed to flow.
Things pay for things, words pay for words in kind;
For vain words give the cheapest herbs you find.
For high fees give such precious drugs as are,
The costly compounds of the species-jar.
Let doctors, then, of whatsoever school,
Remember to observe this prudent rule;
When tortured patients cry out, Oh, dear me!
Then let each say, I'll thank you for my fee.
Yes, pay; discharge the obligation now,
Ere like the rest the thing you disavow.
Men freed from pain, we find, too soon forget
How much to faithful doctors they're in debt,
Be sure to ask your pay, while lasts the pain,
Or else at law a suit you must maintain;
And the recovered man, indignant, will
Exclaim: I've paid, twice paid, this costly bill.

Huxley; On National Education as a National Duty, by Max Müller; Dutch Guiana, Part II, by W. Gifford Palgrave; Professor Tyndall on the Air and Organic Life; Self Esteem and Self Estimation; Hosts and Hostesses; the conclusion of "Her Dearest Foe," by Mrs. Alexander, author of "The Wooing O't;" and an instalment of the powerful story of "The Dilemma." Choice poetry and miscellany complete the number. For fifty-two such numbers of sixty-four large pages each, (or more than 3000 pages a year) the subscription-price ($8) is low, or still better, for $10.50 any one of the American $4 monthlies or weeklies is sent with The Living Age for a year, postpaid. Littell & Gay, Boston, are the publishers.

STATE MISCELLANY.

The resignation of Rev. Mr. Marryott, pastor of the Baptist church in Tiverton, (Stone Bridge,) takes effect on the 1st of May.

A laborer, in Providence, recently fell in some form of a fit, grew stiff and cold, and was supposed to be dead. He was carried to the shop of an undertaker, and put immediately into a coffin, and the lid was screwed down, preparatory of removing him to his residence. Before his removal, he recovered from his fit, kicked the coffin to pieces, and returned to his work.

The Whale rock has been called to public notice by the proposition of Senator Anthony, in Congress, for a light-house or signal upon it. It is situated at the mouth of the west passage of Narragansett bay directly west from Beaver Tail light, and three quarters of a mile from the Narragansett shore. The rock above water is over three hundred feet in length, sixty-five feet in width at the widest part, and from four to five feet out of water at ordinary high tide. The rock is very precipitous on the east and south sides, the water being from four to five fathoms deep close to the rock. A short distance north of the Whale rock is a sunken rock four or five feet under water. On the west, between the "Whale" and Boston Neck shore, are two ledges which run quite near to the surface, within a few feet, with fissures through them, causing currents of six or seven miles an hour.

Kingston people proposed to the Narragansett Pier Railroad Company to take in stock the sum of $17,500, and to give in nearly all the land damages on that end of the road, the land damages they estimate at $2500, which is, as they say, a very low estimate. We are informed by B. F. Robinson, Esq., one of the directors of the road, that some of the parties through whose land the road would pass, if built by the Kingston route, will not give their consent to have the road built through their lands, therefore the company would be obliged to proceed accordingly in taking the land from these parties, which would cause more or less delay in building the road.

PERSONALS.

......Mr. Jay and Mr. Kane, of the coaching club, have completed their plans for a line of coaches to the suburbs during the Summer months. The amateur business begins in May. The rendezvous will be at Twenty seventh street and Madison avenue, and the fare one dollar and a half.

......The Rev. James S. Payne, who has just been chosen president of the republic of Liberia, is a native of Richmond, Va. He was graduated from the Moravian College in Liberia, and for more than twenty years was an authorized missionary of the Methodist Episcopal church to his adopted country.

......While James Buchanan was President he was so particular not to receive presents that when a lady sent him a pair of slippers he not only returned them, but directed the messenger to wait and get a receipt from the giver, so that he might have in his possession proof that they were sent back.

......Mayor P. T. Barnum of Bridgeport, Conn., is said by the local newspapers to be a good city officer but a bad politician. His strenuous and faithful enforcement of the liquor laws in Bridgeport, it is said, has completely alienated from him the "German vote" and made his re-election almost impossible.

......Indeed, we doubt whether there is in either branch of Congress, from the Buckeye commonwealth, a man whose attainments better qualify him for the successful discharge of great duties than do those of Judge Taft, and he fairly overshadows his more fortunate fellow-citizen who was called from comparative obscurity to the Chief Justiceship of the United States.—[Philadelphia Times.

......If Mr. Richard Henry Dana, Jr., accepts the mission to England, he will be the sixth minister who has been sent to the court of St. James from Massachusetts. John Quincy Adams, Edward Everett, George Bancroft, Charles Francis Adams and John Lothrop Motley—three of whom are still living—have been the ministers to Great Britain chosen from that state, and together they have served for eighteen years.

......Ex-Representative Best of Stoneham joins ex-Senator Pond of Worcester in the Charlestown state prison, having been sentenced to two years for stealing money from a neighbor's safe. Ex-Senator Winslow will soon be elected to a term in the same institution, ex-Representative Bardwell of South Deerfield only escaped a strong call thither by death, and ex-Representative Judd of Lee through the settlement of his "financial irregularities" by his father.—[Springfield Republican.

......Yale College is remarkably well represented on the rival tickets in the Connecticut canvass. Governor Ingersoll was graduated from that institution in the class of 1810, and Lieutenant Governor Sill in the class of 1852. Of the Republican candidates, Mr. Henry O. Robinson was graduated in the class of 1853, Mr. Frederick J. Kingsbury in the class of 1846, and General Walker, though a graduate of Amherst College, is a professor in the Sheffield Scientific School of Yale.

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

—There were two lodgers at the station house last night.

—The schooner Elisha T. Smith is being repaired at Sayer's wharf.

—Boys will be admitted to the evening school of Emmanuel church.

—The schooner Julia, owned by J. & L. Coggeshall is to go on the marine railways soon for repairs.

—William Young, a member of the Newport Artillery Veteran Association, is dangerously ill.

—A very neat oval sign has been placed over the front entrance to the custom house which will be a great convenience to mariners.

—The fishing schooner Maggie Mitchell, of this port, went to Providence on Wednesday and sold six thousand pounds of fresh codfish.

—William S. Vose is confined to his house on Bath road by sickness. W. J. Underwood is confined to his house with a sprained ankle.

—The Rev. W. J. Mallilieu D. D. a prominent member of the New England conference of the Methodist Episcopal church, is in town today.

—A Democratic caucus will be held at the state house Saturday evening to nominate delegates to the Democratic state convention to be held in Providence on the 16th inst.

—A wagon loaded with hay, belonging to Mason, Spooner & Co., broke down on Thames street yesterday afternoon. A defect in one of the rear wheels, was the cause.

—It is proposed by all the temperance societies, except the Father Matthew society, to unite and hire one hall to make the expense less. The idea meets with general approval.

—After the steamer P. C. Schultz made her last trip from Wickford last evening she went to Fall River and towed the steamer A. T. Serrill from that port to Sayer's deck. The Serrill has been undergoing extensive repairs.

—A rockaway belonging to James H. Tennant on Barney street caught fire about three o'clock this morning and before it was discovered, it was damaged to the extent of $20. It is supposed that the person who went to the New York boat with it this morning while smoking dropped a spark on the box and so caused the fire.

—The claim of John J. Bracewell for compensation for damages received by his wife through the bad condition of Wellington avenue last January, has been settled by the payment on the part of the city of $150. This is the second claim that has recently been settled very advantageously for the city by the mayor and the city solicitor.

FINE FURNITURE.—There are several pieces of furniture,—library table, book, case and hall chairs,—now at the ware rooms of Messrs. J. L. and G. A. Hazard that are worth attention. The articles are Eastlake style, made of selected oak, with wax finish, and antique tiles of novel design are inlaid in the heavier articles. The trimmings are of plain iron without any enamel but left plain just as they came from the hammer. The idea is novel and the effect is pleasing on light wood. The cost of the articles was $375.

CASTE.—Last night the Boston Theatre company gave "Caste" at the Opera House. The play is too familiar to need particular mention. The company was one of unusual excellence and evenness. There were not simply one or two good actors, with sticks for the other parts, but every member of the company was excellent, and in their respective parts one was as good as another. Mrs. Barry, who sustained the role of Esther Eccles with such fine effect, has a benefit at Boston tonight, and we hope the results will be handsome. The after piece was Sarah's Young Man.—extremely funny. The audience was fair in size, but not so large as it should have been. The evening's entertainment was one that is seldom equalled in this city. The presentation of Our Boys and Caste on successive nights is an embarrassment of riches for Newport that we fear resulted unfavorably to the finances of the companies.

LITTLE COMPTON.

The pleasant vestry room of the Methodist church was crowded on Monday evening by an interested and sympathizing audience, the occasion being a lecture on "The Causes and Cure of Intemperance," by Henry W. Towle. Mr. Towle is a citizen of this town who is well qualified by a sorrowful experience to speak upon the subject of intemperance. The lecture commenced by giving some of the reasons that prompted him to address the public at this time, and then proceeded to give his views upon the subject. He earnestly urged the necessity of total abstinence, showing that the moderate drinker is in constant danger of becoming a drunkard, and is far more dangerous to society than the confirmed inebriate; he also strongly advocated prohibition, claiming that a license law is more mischievous than free rum. The duty of our legislators in this matter was spoken of and the responsibilities of those who elect them. The clergy, were also remembered, and the danger of wine at the sacrament was alluded to. The speaker made some pretty hard hits and just ones too, and acquitted himself well to the end. Several clergymen were present, among them the Rev. Mr. Patterson of Pawtucket, who, having a special interest in the speaker, came expressly to be present on this occasion. Mrs. Towle presided at the organ, and several appropriate and spirited songs preceded and followed the lecture. We should have said that this was Mr. Towle's first attempt at public speaking, and that he proposes to continue his efforts in this direction, as occasion offers, both here and in other places.

CURIOSITY GRATIFIED.

Mrs. Brown and her gossip, Mrs. White, were conversing about husbands and the secrets of Freemasonry. Mr. Brown was a Freemason; and the fact of not being able to share the secrets of the order with him made Mrs. Brown very unhappy. She was pouring out her grief to Mrs. White, and saying for the thousandth time, "I wonder what they do in the lodge room?"

"I have no doubt but it's dreadful," replied Mrs. White. "But if my husband was a Mason, I'll bet I'd find out what he did."

"But how? They dare not tell."

"Ah! but I'd make him tell."

"How? oh, how?" asked Mrs. Brown, anxiously.

"Hush! I'll tell you; but don't breathe it for the world, because it is a dead secret."

"No, no; I won't."

"Well, do you know that tickling a person's ear when they are asleep will make them talk."

"No. Will't though?"

"Yes. Now you wait till Brown comes home from the lodge next time, and have a broom-straw in the bed. When he gets asleep you tickle his ear with it gently, and he will begin to talk about what he has been doing at the lodge, and in this way you can get the whole of the business out of him."

"Gracious me! You don't say so, Mrs. White?"

"To be sure I do. I always get my husband's secrets out of him in this way."

"I'll do it!"

"And you'll tell me all about it, won't you?"

"Certainly. But you must never say anything about it."

"Oh, of course not. "I am very close mouthed" replied Mrs. White earnestly.

So it was agreed upon, and they separated. But unfortunately Mr. White had overheard the conspiracy, and lost no time in informing Mr. Brown, who laughed heartily over it.

A few nights afterward Brown attended a meeting of his lodge, and his wife was all anxiety regarding it. On retiring, she armed herself with a spray from the broom and wakefully waited for her lord and master to return. At last she had almost broken down the veil of secrecy which had troubled her so long, and her heart beat wildly when she heard him open the front door and come in.

Of course she pretended to be asleep, and did not see the comical smile on her husband's face as he turned up the gas and began disrobing for bed. But he said nothing, and in a few moments he was comfortably tucked in and giving out premonitory indications of approaching sleep.

Then Mrs. Brown opened her eyes cautiously and convinced herself that he had gone to that land from which sleepy husbands never return until some time next day. Cautiously she reached under the pillow, and took the broom straw from its hiding place. Then she reached over carefully and began to tickle her husband's ear, and he was all the while doing his best to keep from exploding with laughter.

Finally he began to talk a little, and her ears were keenly alive to every syllable.

"Yes he must die," said he. "He betrayed our secrets to his wife. I've got to kill him—the lot fell on me."

Mrs. Brown screamed and leaped from the bed, while her husband, unable to control himself, gave vent to his laughter and disturbed the neighbors for the next ten minutes. But they never came to any understanding about the strange affair. She never asked him what he was laughing at, and he never inquired what it was which made her scream and leap out of bed so quickly.

Mrs. Brown and Mrs. White don't speak now. She thinks Mrs. White played a joke on her, and she seems to have lost much of her anxiety regarding the secrets of Freemasonry.

HOW "PROTECTION" DWARFS OUR COTTON MANUFACTURES.

[From the Chicago Tribune.]

In 1860, under the low, "free trade" tariff of 1857, for which many of the wigs voted, the cotton manufacturers of the United States, in addition to supplying the home market and driving out pretty much all European cotton goods, exported to foreign markets of those goods to the value of $10,934,707. In 1861 a "protective" tariff was passed, and it has several times since been made more "protective." The result of the protection is, that in 1875 we imported nearly 80,000,000 yards of foreign cotton cloths and exported only 23,000,000 yards (chiefly to Canada), worth $4,071,785. Thus the imports of cotton goods under a high tariff have immensely increased and our exports of such goods have dwindled down to one third of what they were in 1860. The Chicago Journal squirms under the effect of those facts and tries to break their force by arguing that we produced more cotton goods in 1870 than in 1860, and cites these figures in proof of it:

Years.	Hands.	Wages.	Products.
1870	135,369	$39,044,132	$177,489,737
1860	122,028	23,940,108	115,681,004
1850	92,286		65,501,687

The number of hands employed in 1870 was 10½ per cent. greater than in 1860, but the population of the country had increased 26 per cent. during the same period. The wages paid in 1860 is computed in gold, but that in 1870 in greenbacks, the average value of which that year was only 84 cents. Deduct this 16 per cent. discount on the wages paid, and from the currency value of the goods produced, and there only remains an increase of 10 to 12 per cent. over that of 1860, notwithstanding the immense protection afforded by the high tariff which raged between 1861 and 1870. Now the consumption of cotton goods between those dates must have increased at least 30 per cent., and this accounts for the increased importation of foreign cotton fabrics, showing that the high tariff, instead of helping our factories, had crippled them.

A California firm has contracted for a miniature twenty-stamp quartz mill to be exhibited at the centennial. The mill is to be the finest, and the engine is to be about four-inch bore by six-inch stroke, with other machinery in proportion. All the wood used in and about the mill is to be polished mahogany and California laurel. The entire process of reducing and amalgamating ores is to be shown precisely as it is done in the regular mills.

An eminent physician of a Western city says he has cured ninety-nine out of every hundred cases of scarlet fever by giving the patients warm lemonade with gum arabic dissolved in it. A cloth wrung out in hot water and laid upon the stomach should be removed as rapidly as it becomes cool.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

CUT THIS OUT. IT MAY SAVE YOUR LIFE.

There is no person living but what suffers more or less with Lung Diseases, Coughs, Colds or Consumption, yet some would die rather than pay 75 cents for a bottle of medicine that would cure them. Dr. A. Boschee's German Syrup has lately been introduced in this country from Germany, and its wondrous cures astonish every one that tries it. If you doubt what we say in print, cut this out and take it to your Druggist, James H. Taylor and get a sample bottle for 10 cents and try it. Two doses will relieve you. Regular size 75 cents.

WHY SUFFER FOR HOURS

A Genial Restorative.

Hostetter's Stomach Bitters are emphatically a genial restorative. The changes which this great botanic remedy produces in the disordered organization are always agreeably though surely progressive, never abrupt and violent. On this account it is admirably adapted to persons of delicate constitution and weak nerves, to whom the powerful mineral drugs are positively injurious. That it initiates those processes which result in the re-establishment of healthful vigor is conspicuously shown in cases where it is taken to overcome that fruitful cause of debility, indigestion, coupled, as it usually is, with biliousness and constipation. Thorough digestion, regular evacuation and abundant secretion are results which promptly and invariably attend its systematic use. It is besides, the best protective against malaria, and a first rate diuretic. mar5-1w-n&j

Its constant use is recommended to all, but specially to those who having good teeth wish to preserve them. 25 and 50 cents per bottle. Sold by druggists. mar3 codn-cowj

Dr. Schenck's Standard Remedies.

The standard remedies for all diseases of the lungs are SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP, SCHENCK'S SEA WEED TONIC, and SCHENCK'S MANDRAKE PILLS, and, if taken before the lungs are destroyed, a speedy cure is effected.

To these three medicines Dr. J. H. Schenck, of Philadelphia, owes his unrivalled success in the treatment of pulmonary diseases.

The Pulmonic Syrup ripens the morbid matter in the lungs; nature throws it off by an easy expectoration, for when the phlegm or matter is ripe a slight cough will throw it off, the patient has rest and the lungs begin to heal.

To enable the Pulmonic Syrup to do this, Schenck's Mandrake Pills and Schenck's Sea Weed Tonic must be freely used to cleanse the stomach and liver. Schenck's Mandrake Pills act on the liver, removing all obstructions, relax the gall bladder, the bile starts freely, and the liver is soon relieved.

Schenck's Sea Weed Tonic is a gentle stimulant and alterative; the alkali of which it is composed, mixes with the food and prevents souring. It assists the digestion by toning up the stomach to a healthy condition, so that the food and the Pulmonic Syrup will make good blood; then the lungs heal, and the patient will surely get well if care is taken to prevent fresh cold.

All who wish to consult Dr. Schenck, either personally or by letter, can do so at his principal office, corner of SIXTH and ARCH STS., Philadelphia, every Monday.

Schenck's medicines are sold by all druggists throughout the country. mar6-2m-no

FRIDAY, MARCH 10, 1876.

AGRICULTURAL.

SATURATED SOIL.

In the town of Leicester, England, there has prevailed for many years an epidemic diarrhea among children, eminently fatal, and occurring in the months of July, August and September. A report by Drs. Buck and Franklin to the sanitary committee of the borough has just been published, in which they prove that the disease is most prevalent where the soil is water-logged, where sewers are liable to be blocked up, and where the houses have been built on undrained ground made up of refuse from all parts. In those portions of the town where these conditions exist in a less degree, the disease is less prevalent, and where they do not exist, it is almost unknown. The examiners recommend for the mitigation of the disease, that the subsoil be efficiently drained of its superfluous water, that a free outfall be found for the sewers, and that clay-pits or other excavations should not be filled up with filthy ash-bin refuse and then built upon.

Now, in our city some of these conditions certainly exist. We can think of a dozen places, originally swamps, in which stagnant water accumulates. The original outlet is cut off by the newly graded streets, and the water must stay where it is until removed by the slow process of evaporation. When the spot becomes offensive to the eye, or the land is desired for building purposes, without providing the under draining necessary, the place is simply filled in, and usually with the filthy refuse of ashes and garbage above condemned. This is not a matter of today alone; we are by this carelessness possibly laying up for our descendants a deal of misery. Again, it is questionable prudence to build, as we know some are doing, on saturated soil. Do not be deceived by temporary immunity; the trouble will come sooner or later.

A physician conversant with the facts, and himself much interested in sanitary matters, lately told us of a curious map that had been prepared of the city of New York. An old colonial chart of the island was taken and the sites of swamps and streams carefully marked. Then, if we remember rightly, this map was superimposed upon a wooden one and pins stuck through in the saturated districts. These were found to correspond exactly with well known malarious sections. By digging down, these undrained places have been found. The city has grown up, but the old swamps are there still, and after a rain the water accumulates, can find no vent, and becomes stagnant. When the remedy is so easy, especially in unbuilt districts, why should we subject ourselves and our children to such terrible possibilities? At least the matter deserves consideration.—[Letter to the Providence Journal.

BARGAINING IN CALCUTTA.—The Hindoo merchants of Calcutta are described as the most wary, wily and unprincipled people in the world. The persistence of these fellows in the face of reprimand and discouragement when a person comes to make a trade with them is really remarkable. They will leave you as you sternly refuse to buy, only the next moment to assail you again with lower offers and a fresh batch of reasons why you should purchase, even following your carriage and attempting by every artifice they can command to strike a bargain on a run. You cannot shake them off. They make applications for admission to your hotel room. If their requests are granted you will have stacks of goods of all sorts laid out before you, with a dozen dealers or their clerks persuading and clamoring for your patronage. Even the India shawl trade is thus carried on at private houses and hotels. One must be sharp at bargaining, and know something of the value of the articles he would purchase if he is not well taken in and done for by these Indian tradesmen. They are smart and sharp, and in the diplomacy of trade it would be difficult to find superiors of the Hindoo. One of them, a leading shawl merchant reputed to be wealthy, called upon God to witness that his statement was true as to the cost of a shawl. "Very well," was the reply, "but you don't believe in God; you are a Hindoo." "Yes," he quickly responded, "Hindoo God and your God all same; make me an offer." The persistent heathen, after all his solemn invocations to the Deity, confessed that he had lied by dropping $100 from the price he named. He then wanted to leave the article for further negotiation, since his last offer was not acceded to, and he could only be got rid of by the sharpest intimations that he must leave the room. With a bland smile mingled with an expression of sorrow and disappointment, he bowed low, executed a gracefully polite salaam and slowly withdrew.
